

Hysterosalpingogram (HSG) information

Your provider has requested that you have an HSG done to evaluate the status of your fallopian tubes.

Please first check with your insurance to see if the test is a covered procedure and that you do not require prior authorization. If prior authorization is required, please notify a staff member so that we can assist you.

Radiology labs

The following are radiology labs that offer HSG testing. Please contact the lab directly for scheduling. It is important that you call the radiology office on day 1 of your menses to schedule this test.
